

Suction Catheter

- Applicable for the suction of secretory juice or phlegm in the trachea;
- Flange on the tip enlarges the area touching patients and reduce puncture wound on patients;
- Four tiny eyes on the tip can effectively avoid injury on patients because of excessive negative pressure during suction

